GIRLS AND A STEPMOTHER.

BATESDROPPING, BACKBITING, AND SECRET SEARCHING OF ROOMS.

All the Miseries of Assistant Superintend. out Verner's Mome Carried into Court-Rach Side has Kept Careful Memoranda.

W. Gray Verner of Stapleton, Staten Island, was made Assistant Superintendent of the Lighthouse Department for gallant service in the navy during the war, in the performance of which he lost his right leg below the knee. Renow wears a cork leg and carries a cane. His wife, who was Julia Gillespie, is somewhere between 80 and 45 years old. She has a baby, but the baby does not appear in the

Mr. Verner has two daughters by his first all the trouble, if you look at it one way. Looking at it another way Mrs. Verner is the cause. At any rate, it began with her coming into the

At any rate, it began with her coming into the family.

Mr. Verner's first wife. Lea McDonald, lived with him for about five years and bore him two children. Then they separated, and Verner want to live with Ben Whaley and his wife at Btapleton, Mrs. Whaley taking care of the children and bringing them up as her own. Nothing could be more delightful than the home atmosphere of these two families united into one. Verner seemed content, and, although he went about to musical clubs and the like, he said nothing of marrying again.

On Oct, 2, 1888, Mrs. Whaley received a note from Mr. Verner. It said that "Jule" would be home with the baby in a few days. By way of axplaining this he simply wrote that he had been married two years. Then the row began. In two weeks the new Mrs. Verner was installed with the Verner girls and Mr. and Mrs. Whaley. Things went along with only an occasional rupture however, until June 2 last. Then Mrs. Whaley allowed Mrs. Verner to become the head of the house and no longer a boarder. From this time on the stories of the two sides diverge, but both agree that then the cought to have got off the pony quicker. two aldes diverge, but both agree that then egan such a system of intrigue and backbiting as was never heard of before. There was eavesdropping, there was secret searching was eavesdropping, there was secret searching of rooms.

The girls were determined that their rooms should not be searched without their knowledge. They fastened pins together by threads and attuck them in doors and windows and in different articles of personal property so that if any one opened a door or window sand in the pulled out and discovery would be certain. Mra Verner was not a bit behind the girls in cunning. Each side kent a memorandam book in which all the acts of the other side were set down with the date affixed. These memorandum books are now useful in relieshing the memory of witnesses. As for Mr. Verner, known in the family as "Mr. V." he vacillated from one side to the other in paroxysms of rage and doubt. At one time he nearly separated from his wife. Now he has joined hands with her and is against Mrs. Whaley and his children by his first wife. These children are known to Mr. and Mrs. Verner as the 'young devils." Mrs. Verner as the 'young devils." Mrs. Verner says Mrs. Whaley has taught they are allowed to remain.

Mrs. Verner says Mrs. Whaley has taught the girls nothing but devillsh tricks, that Mrs. Whaley resented her introduction into the family bitterly, and that she tried to poison her. The instrument was arsenic wafers, administered in tea and coffee. "When, says Mrs. Verner says Mrs. Whaley has failed she confessed it to my husband, saying I had only fattened on them."

Mrs. Verner poes on to say that she is a lady and that the table manners of the girls filled.

confessed it to my husband, saying I had only fattened on them.

Mrs. Verner goes on to say that she is a lady and that the table manners of the girls filled her with terror. They would dip their bread into their coffee and spill and splash coffee all over the table. They slopt with their shoes and stockings on. They slopt with their shoes and stockings on. They listened at the doors when I had company, and if a remark was dropped about one of the neighbors they would go out and tell it to the very person. After I fired Mrs. Whaley out of the house she kept up communication with the house by means of letters dropped out of the wi dows to her. The elder girl used to rap on the table and sneer in my face and dare me to strike her. But I wouldn't. They are a pair of devils, and it's all Mrs. Whaley say! (ault."

Now Mrs. Whaley and the girls tell quite a different story. And their part is in many respects correborated by the police. Mrs. Whaley says she left the house of her own second on Aug. 29. She denies the poisoning story as a malicious falsehood. She says that until Mrs. Verner No. 2 came all was pleasant and Mr. Verner was as good a man as there was in the world.

and Mr. Verner was as good a man as there was in the world.

Mamie, the elder girl, has it all down in her little book. She is a nice-looking girl of 17, with a strong-willed expression that is almost cellant. Says she: "The first big row was on Bept 7, when my father struck me with his cane and then shoved me so that I fell down stairs. My since burts still from that. It is all because of this woman. She wants to get rid of us, and she has polsoned my father's mind against us, so that the hates us. And we hate him. He has treated me and my sister Ella terribly. On Nov. 23 he grabbed Ella and held her while that old devil slapped her and gouged at her spec. Ella ran away, and ran to the police station, and her face was all bloody and her body was all bruised.

You ought to see that woman, when she is of us, and she has poisoned my fathers mind against us, so that he hates us. And we hate him. He has treated me and my sister kills herribly. On Nov. 23 he grabbed kills and held her while that old devil slapped her and gouged at her eyes. Ells ran away, and ran to the police station, and her lace was all bloody and her body was all bruised.

All Herribly hat she will have nothing more tool with the matter.

Mr. Venner makes $150 a month and draws a peasion of $30 a month. He seems to be will dent herribly. On Nov. 23 he grabbed kills and held herribly herribly afternoon, and she says he cursed her so horribly that she will have nothing more to do with the matter.

Mr. Verner makes $150 a month and draws a peasion of $30 a month. He seems to be willing to put the girls in a protectory, but Mrs. Verner does not want him to undertake the expense. A part of the time the girls were at home Mamie worked as the servant for the family for $5 a month. The girls say their father is terribly hennecked, and that during some of the bitterest domestic quarrels his wife would turn on him and call him an old loafer and an old seconderel. His first wife died on May 24, 1888, and he had been married to his second wife nearly two years at that time. There was some surprise when it was learned that he had been married so lang, as no one had known that he had got a divorce from his first wife. He told his second wife that Mrs. Whaley was his sister, and she believed it for a long time. When she found out the truth she was angry. Verner is 47 years old, and has curly hair.

"He has referred or bize fights," said his oldest girl, "and he practised on us at home."

The Police Commissioners were chagrined when they received the order of the Court of patrolman of the Eighteenth precinct, who ras dismissed from the force nearly two years ago for Intoxication. The Captain, two Sergeants, and two roundsmen swore at the police trial that Balke was drunk. The police surgeon testified, however, that he saw Balke thirty-five minutes after he had been brought into the station house. Balke was sober and into the station house. Balke was sober and fit for duty. The surgeon thought he might have sobered up in the thirty-five minutes.

"I presume it was on the surgeon's statement," said Commissioner McClave vesterday, "that the Court of Apresis reinstated Balke, that we allowed him to remain in the department we would have been severely criticised or keeping drunken men on the force. As it is now, we have been compelled to restore him to duty, and he is entitled to back pay, with interests and costs, amounting to $2,599.93. This mosey has to be taken out of the pension fund."

Balke was put back on the force yesterday.

Mrs, Thempson's Sudden Beath. Mrs. Thompson, a widow, was attacked with congestion of the lungs yesterday afternoon just as she was descending the stoop leading struct, Brooklyn where she had been consulting about some other aliment. A man passing caught her in his arms as she sank to the aldewalk. Bhe was carried back to Dr. Liord's effec, where she died within a few minutes. Bhe was 55 years old and she lived with her married daughter at 1,097 Bedford

RILLED MIMSRLP LAST OF ALL Three Men and Two Women Wantonly Murdered by a Lunatic,

FORT SMITH, Ark., Dec. 12.-R. C. Caldwell, a well-known farmer, was driving home from this city at 6 P. M. resterday, and when about four miles out was intercented by a footman. armed with a shotgun, who asked him if either of his mules would "ride." Caldwell told him "No." Just then an old man came along riding a pony. The footman ordered him to get off, but he did not comply promptly, and the man shot him twice, blowing the top of his head off. He mounted the old man's pony, and rode about three miles, when the animal gave out, and he abandoned it.

The stranger overtook a young man driving an empty wagon and jumped into it. He told the young fellow to drive for his life or he would kill him. Taking the whip from the driver he whipped up the team and ran the mules to Jenny Lind, a distance of three or four miles. There he went to the store of Dr.

MISS WILLIAMS'S SHOPPING TOUR.

She Started at Ehrich's, Distributed Her Purchases, and Wound Up in Jatt. Mary Williams was present in the Tombs Police Court yesterday merning, with her features closely concealed by a thick black vell, and reading a December magazine. She was charged with having represented herself to Ehrich Bros. as Mrs. Shields of 50 East Fiftyseventh street, and with swindling that firm out of nearly $200 worth of goods. Mrs J. M. Greg, the clerk who sold the goods, appeared Miss Williams said she was 45 years old, and lived at 15 William street. George Barfield, the hackman, who drove her to Ehrich's, testified that Miss Williams halled him in front of the Fifth Avenue Hotel on Wednesday, and directed him to drive to 96 Lexington avenue, a milliner's. On coming out she was met at the corner by a middle-aged man, who drove with her to Ehrich's, where he left her, and she made her purchases, placing several bundles in the cab. She returned to 96 Lexington avenue, and then went to the flat at 429 West Fifty-seventh street.

Miss Williams were at the time a short wrap lined with fur. She took some of the goods from the carriage into the flat, and on resppearing were a long clock. Mrs. Shields's house was next visited, and there Miss Williams requested the servant to keep any goods which might come for her until called for. Afterward she drove to Acker, Merrall & Condit's, at Broadway and Forty-second street, and the remainder of the goods in the cab were left there. Miss Williams then went to Fifty-eighth street and Sixth avenue, where she dismissed the driver and took an elevated train down town.

The driver's suspicions were aroused by the actions of Miss Williams, and he immediately went back to Ehrich's and reported her movements, and a messenger was sent to Mrs. Shields, who said that she had ordered no goods.

Miss Williams yesterday pleaded not guilty directed him to drive to 96 Lexington avenue,

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.-At the request of the Brooklyn Congress delegation, the House Con-sus Committee assigned to-day for a hearing on the claim of Brooklyn for a recount, based on alleged insufficient enumeration by the Federal census. When the committee met Representative Felix Campbell said that he regretted to have to appear as an apologist, but when he went home after the data to place benaring the case greater than had been expected. There was no use in appearing before the committee unless they had facts and figures

They were charged with running agaming table, and the witnesses for the State were reputable merchants. No defence was made, the accused themselves not going on the stand. To the surprise of everybody the jury acquitted them, and with amazement depicted in his face the Judge said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, did you say not guilty?"

"Yes." replied one of the jurymen, timidly,

"Well, I must say it is the most disgraceful verdict! I have ever heard," said the Court.

"The evidence was all one way."

Continuing, his Honor denounced the action of the jury in unmeasured terms, and said that justice had been outraged. As soon as they were discharged the twelve men sneaked out of the crowded court room.

ALBANY, Dec. 12 .- Adjt.-Gen. Porter has another disappointed National Guard officer to contend with. This afternoon Gen. Porter arthe prominent members of Brig.-Gen. Amass J. Parker's Third Brigade staff were summoned to the Adjutant-General's office and officially notified of Gen. Parker's resignation, Gen. Portor, beyond admitting that Gen. Parker's resignation had been sent in and as yet had not been acted upon, would communicate nothing definite. It is generally understood here that Gen. Parker's failure to get control of the new Tenth Battation Armory was the immediate cause of his resigning his command, though his relations with head-quarters have not been of the most coydial nature for some time past, and an open rupture exists between him and the Assistant Adjutant-General.

RADES ASSAULT ON MISS O'BARA He Bragged Her from a Carriage at Night and Left Her Half Senseless.

ELIEABETH, Dec. 12 .- James Hade, the coachman who drove President Harrison through Elizabeth on the occasion of the Washington Centennial, was convicted this afternoon in the Union County Court of a very brutal assault on Miss Anna O'Hara, aged 52, the housekeeper of Superintendent W. R. Babcock of the Linden Park race track. Miss O'Hara had been shopping in New York on Oct 6, and she engaged Hade on her return to drive her home to Lin-Hade on her return to drive her home to Linden in his back. When they reached a secluded spot in the suburbs of this city he attacked her in the carriage, and while she stoutly resisted he dragged her out by the heels, slung her down in the muddy road, kicked her, and otherwise maltreated her. Then he drove away, leaving her nearly senseless.

Miss O'Hara wandered bars-basded for hours in the darkness and in the severe rain storm prevailing. Her face was bruised and bleeding. She at last managed to reach a farmhouse, where she got shelter, and the police were notified. Hade was arreated before daylight, and the marks on his face inflicted by Miss O'Hara's nalls, together with his general appearance, indicated, despite his denials, that he was the assailant. Miss O'Hara' identified him, and his indictment followed. He is 34 years old. He will be sentenced to-morrow.

MRS. GUNNER WANTS ALIMONY.

A Son of the Police Captain Suing for Abselute Diverce.

Charles F. Gunner, a son of Police Captain Gunner, has begun a suit in the Supreme Court for absolute divorce from Elizabeth Gunner. The plaintiff is an engineer in the Fire Department, and was married on Feb. 24. 1879. It is alleged in the complaint that Mrs. Gunner has been intimate with Ody D. Aymong, Leonard Sharpley, Charles W. Smith. mong. Leonard Sharpley. Charles W. Smith, and Eustace Stone. She deales emphatically the charges of infidelity, and says that she has always been a dutiful wife. Her husband's only object in bringing this action, she surmises, is to get rid of her. He knows she asserts, that his charges cannot be established. She says he has been drinking of late and has repeatedly assaulted her. He struck her and threw her violently about the house, and finnily threatened to shoot her. She lived with him in their flat at 1,256 Third avenue until Oct. 18. 1890. Since that time she has been destitute, and obliged to rely upon the charity of friends. Howe & Hummel, on her behalf, applied to Judge Andrews yesterday for alimony and counsel fee. Decision was reserved.

Mrs. Lawson's Suit for the Custody of her Children.

POUGHERPSIE, Dec. 12.-The action brought her two children on habeas corpus proceedings was tried before Justice Barnard to-day. The principals were married some years ago in Washington, she being a widow and Lawson a divorced man. As she tells it, he has been abusive, drunk, and intolerant. According to his story, she has been insanely jealous ing to his story, she has been insanely jealous and their married life one continual scene of blokerings and quarrels. The children since the last separation have been in charge of a Mrs. Le Roy at New Hamburg, the husband paying for their board and clothing and giving the wife $4 a week toward her support. She wants the children placed in her care and the husband to give her a fair amount to support them and her; hence the action. Mr. Lawson is a conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and was once a clerk at the Nelson House in this city. The case will be argued on Saturday. The Income of Ten Millions for Police

Treasurer McClave reported to the Police Board yesterday that $117,000 will be required to pay the pensioners of the department on Jan. 1. This is only a quarterly payment. The pensions paid out yearly at the present time amount to haif a million dollars. Commissioner McClave said that the Board would soon have to a-k the Legislature to increase the pension moneys.
